

Name	Birth/Death	Age	Range/Site
Arth, Annie J.	d. 26 Jan 1888	79 yrs.	R9/71
Arth. On Thursday, January 26, 1888 at 1 a.m., Anna Isabella, widow of the late Phillipard Arth, in the 80th year of her age. Funeral will take place from the residence of her daughter, 1232 E street southeast on Sunday, January 29 at 1 p.m. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend.
Arth, George M.	d. 4 Mar 1886	47 yrs.	R9/72
Arth. On Thursday morning, March 4, 1886, at 3 o'clock, George M. Arth, in the 48th year of his age. Funeral will take place at the residence of his brother, 1206 E street southeast, Sunday, March 7 at 2 p.m. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to attend.
The Evening Star, March 8, 1886
Locals
The funeral of George Arth, for many years bass drummer of the Marine band, took place yesterday afternoon from his late home, 1206 E street southeast. The remains were buried in the Congressional Cemetery. Post No. 3, G.A.R. attended.
Member of the orchestra (bass) at Fords Theater the night of Lincoln's assassination.
Arth, Henrietta	d. 29 Jul 1940	90 yrs.	R83/262
The Evening Star, August 1, 1940, p. B16
Mrs. Henrietta Arth Death Removes Link With Historic Past
Daughter and Widow Of Two Prominent Marine Band Musicians
With the death last Friday of Mrs. Henrietta Arth, 90, daughter and widow of two prominent Marine Band musicians of President Lincoln's time, Washington has lost another direct link with the Civil War period.
Mrs. Arth was born in Washington, the daughter of Prof. Francis M. Scala and Mary Wood Scala. Her father, a native of Italy, was one of the accomplished musicians whose name has long been associated with the history of the Marine Band. Known as the President's Own, the band often played at the White House, and one of Mrs. Arth's clearest remembrances was her visit to the White House with her father when she was 15, when she was greeted by President Lincoln.
She was the widow of Joseph A. Arth, drummer with the band during the same period. Files of The Star report that Joseph Arth was the drummer in the pit at Ford's Theater the night President Lincoln was assassinated.
Mrs. Arth, who would have been 91 on August 21, died at the home of a daughter, Miss Grace A. Arth, at Gambrill, Md., where she had lived for the past 18 years. Mrs. Arth had spent most of her life in Washington, however. Funeral services were held Monday at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Claud Burlingame, 1350 South Carolina avenue S.E. She is survived by four other daughters and two sons. Burial was in the family plot in Congressional Cemetery.
Arth, John Philip	d. 4 May 1877	77 yrs.	R9/72
Arth. On May the 4th, 1877, at 6:45 a.m., John Philip Artha, in the 78th year of his age. Funeral will take place from his late residence, 516 9th street southeast, at 2:30 o'clock p.m. Sunday 6th. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.
Arth, Philip L.	d. 30 Apr 1876	24 yrs.	R9/71
Arth. On the 30th April, 1876, Philip L. Arth, youngest son of Philip and Isabella Arth aged 24. Funeral on Wednesday, 3d inst. At 3 p.m. from his father's residence, 516 9th street southeast. Friends of the family respectfully invited to attend.
Arth, William	d. 22 Feb 1875		R14/39
Arth. On the 22d instant, at 3 o'clock a.m., Willie, only son of Joseph and Henrietta Arth, of pneumonia.
Ere sin could blight or sorrow fade, Death came with friendly care; The opening bud to heaven conveyed And bade it blossom there.
The friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral from his parent's residence at 3 o'clock p.m., 24th instant, No. 911 E street southeast.			