

Hickenlooper, Elizabeth	d. 24 Nov 1881	49 yrs.	R7/154
--------------------------------	----------------	---------	---------------

Hickenlooper. On Thursday, November 24, 1881, after a lingering illness, Elizabeth Hickenlooper, wife of George Hickenlooper, in the 50th year of her age. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from No. 323 A street southeast, on Saturday, November 26th, at 2 o'clock p.m.

Hickenlooper, Judge George	d. 16 Aug 1906	80 yrs.	R7/155
-----------------------------------	----------------	---------	---------------

Hickenlooper. On Thursday morning, August 16, 1906, at 12:25 o'clock at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. F.A. Sebring, Judge George Hickenlooper, aged eighty years. Funeral from 1209 Kenyon street northwest on Friday, August 17, at 3:30 o'clock p.m. Interment private.

The Evening Star, August 16, 1906, p. 16

Aged Resident Dead

Judge George Hickenlooper

Victim of Cancer

Judge George Hickenlooper, living at 1209 Kenyon street northwest, died this morning at 12:25 o'clock from cancer of the liver, at the age of eighty years. For several months past he has been rapidly failing, and consequently his death was not unexpected.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the house of his daughter, Mrs. Frank A. Sebring, where he died, and the funeral will be private. Wm. Young of Ballston, Va., an army chaplain who has been a stanch friend of the deceased for many years, will officiate at the funeral services.

Judge Hickenlooper was for thirty-five years a clerk in the office of the paymaster general in the War Department, and during his residence in this city he made many friends among whom the news of his death will cause great regret. In all his dealings he was known as an upright, straightforward and just man, and he had won the esteem of all with whom he came in contact.

Judge Hickenlooper was born August 8, 1826, in Pennsylvania, and was reared in the east, attending a law school in the last years of his boyhood. Just before the war he went to St. Louis, and enlisted in the Union army from that city. He served in the war for three years, securing much credit by his faithful service. After the war he went to Albia, Iowa, where he became the editor of the Albia Union, which position he held for many years. He practiced law there, and became a county judge, serving several years.

He came to the city of Washington about thirty-five years ago, and secured a position in the paymaster general's office, which he held until January 1 last, completing thirty-five years of service. At the time of his retirement he was in failing health, being confined to his bed.

Judge Hickenlooper was a brother of Gen. Andrew Hickenlooper of Cincinnati. He was actively identified with the G.A.R. for many years. One daughter, Mrs. Frank A. Sebring, wife of the financial clerk of the Police Court, and one son, Carlos, of St. Louis, survive him. His wife died about twenty-five years ago, and he has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Sebring most of the time since.

The Evening Star, August 18, 1906, p. 3

Remains At Rest

Funeral of Judge Hickenlooper Late Yesterday Afternoon

The remains of George Hickenlooper, who was for many years employed in the office of the paymaster general, War Department, were interred yesterday afternoon in Congressional cemetery.

Funeral services were held at the residence of Mrs. Frank Sebring, 1209 Kenyon street northwest, in charge of Rev. William Young of Ballston, Va., a former army chaplain.

The pallbearers, who were chosen from among the former friends of the deceased in the office of the paymaster general, were: Messrs. B.P. Murray, T.J. MacNamee, J.B. Diver, J.C.S. Berger, Fred Murray and W.H. Harrison.

The services were attended by many members of Garfield Post, Grand Army of the Republic.