Former Marshal Dead

William E. Maguire Succumbs to Lingering Illness

William E. Maguire, 40 years old, formerly a deputy marshal of the District of Columbia for several years, died at his residence, 1114 K street southeast, yesterday after a lingering illness. His last work was that of a detective for the Pennsylvania Railroad, which position he held until forced to retire, due to ill health, several months ago.

Mr. Maguire was a lifelong resident of Washington. He was a member of the National Union and the Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edith Maguire; two sons, Jack and Harry Maguire, and his mother, Mrs. Marion Maguire.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Albert Childs and Rev. Charles N. Jarrett, pastor of the Fifteenth Street Christian Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Congressional Cemetery.
