Reily, Barbara	d. 1 Aug 1852	83 yrs.	R27/26
Reily. Departed this life, on the morning of the 1st instant, aged about 83 years, Mrs. Barbara Reily, relict of the late Major William Reily, an officer of the Fourth Maryland regiment of the Revolution. This estimable, accomplished, and truly amiable lady, through a long life, was the friend of the friendless. An humble and pious Christian, she was a devout member for more than thirty years of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this city. Sincere in all her professions of love and friendship, she was actuated solely by the desire of doing good. She exhibited throughout life those estimable qualities of the heart that endeared her to all who knew her, and died, as she had lived, in the Christian's hope of immortality. To her bereaved children her loss is irreparable. By her church her death will be piously regretted; and by the poor her memory will be cherished. Her funeral will take place on Tuesday next, at 10 o'clock a.m., from the residence of her son, John H. Reily, on 12th street, to which the friends of the family are respectfully invited.

Reily, Maj. William	d. 9 Jul 1824	75 yrs.	R27/25
In personal affidavit made at Washington, D.C., March 23, 1818, before Buckner Thruston, of the District of Columbia, in connection with his claim for pension, William Reily stated that he served his country as an officer of the Revolutionary War for nearly nine years, as Lieutenant and Adjutant to Militia regiment in Baltimore in 1775; as Lieutenant in the Maryland Flying Camp in 1776; as Captain in 4th Maryland Regiment of Regulars in 1777, and he held this latter rank to the close of the war. Returned from Charleston by sea triumphant with the only regiment left out of eight which the State of Maryland had furnished for the South. Never received any compensation from the Government except a final settlement certificate which he finally had to dispose of, from necessity, from one-eighth its nominal value, on the supposition the Government would never redeem it. Letter from T.E. Reily, son of William Reily, to Hon. John B. Eaton, Secretary of War, dated February 21, 1831, refers to the fact his father's pension ($20 per month) was cut off by "some unaccountable error, or inimical design," on September 4, 1819, and asks that back pay due his father be granted his mother, Mrs. Barbara Reily, upon her application for pension, as the widow of Major Reily. S.208, approved February 9, 1853, "An Act for the Relief of Barbara Reily," required the Secretary of the Interior "to pay to Barbara Reily, widow of Captain William Reily, an officer of the Army of the Revolution, the amount of pension due him from the time he was last paid to the 4th day of March, 1820." Will of William Reily, of Washington (dtd. July 13, 1821, probated July 31, 1824, Will Book 3) To wife Barbara Reily, lot situated at northwest corner of Pennsylvania Ave., and 12th St., touching line of Robert King, together with dwelling house and kitchen standing on the ground; to maintain "our beloved daughter Susan" whom I hereby thankfully commit to her protection.
