Franklin Weller, Druggist, Dies

Native of Maryland and Descendant of

Revolutionary Families Was 78

Franklin Pierce Weller, veteran Washington druggist, whose store at Eighth and I streets southeast has been in operation for more than a generation, died last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Richard W. Hynson, 3435 Thirty-fourth place. He was 78 years old.

A native of Frederick County, Md., and a descendant of Revolutionary families, Mr. Weller came here at the age of 8 and served a newspaper route after school. In the '80s he served as a pharmacist in the Navy aboard the U.S.S. Galena, found his drug store after leaving the service.

For 27 years he was a member of the District National Guard Hospital Corps, serving a large part of his time under Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, now District Commissioner. He was a member of the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, the DeMolay Commandary, Knights Templar, and St. John's Lodge, F.A.A.M.

His wife, Mrs. Margaret Francis Young Weller, died three years ago, and his sole survivor is his daughter, Mrs. Hynson, from whose home the funeral will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Congressional Cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers include Gratz E. Dunkum, Eugene B. Thompson, Albert W. Bright, Francis M. Griswell, Paul Pearson and Phillip G. Affleck.
